Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of Chase Investment Services Corporation

In our opinion, the accompanying statement of financial condition presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Chase Investment Services Corporation (the "Company") at December 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit of this statement in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall statement of financial condition presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Organization

Chase Investment Services Corporation ("CISC") is a wholly owned subsidiary of Banc One Capital Holdings LLC ("BOCH" or the "Parent"). BOCH is a wholly owned subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase & Co. ("JPMorgan Chase"). CISC is a registered broker dealer pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). CISC is also a registered investment advisor under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

CISC's primary business activity is the sale and distribution of various investment products on behalf of its retail customers. CISC is a fully disclosed introducing broker for brokerage products, which include mutual funds, equities, and fixed income securities. The clearance and custody of customer transactions are provided by CISC's clearing broker, National Financial Services LLC ("NFS").

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting and financial reporting policies of CISC conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and prevailing industry practices.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of the statement of financial condition in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and of disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash on hand and on deposit and highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less are considered cash and cash equivalents.

Securities Transactions

Proprietary securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Customers' securities transactions are recorded on a settlement date basis, with related commission revenue recorded on a trade date basis. Amounts receivable and payable on unsettled transactions are recorded net in receivable from clearing broker on the accompanying statement of financial condition.

Other Assets

Other assets primarily include commissions advances to sales representatives in the amount of $11,047 for the sale of managed account products, prepaid assets and furniture, equipment and leasehold improvements. Furniture, equipment and leasehold improvements of $1,154 are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. CISC computes depreciation using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets which is three to ten years. For leasehold improvements, CISC uses the straight-line method over the remaining term of the leased facility or ten years, whichever is less.

Accounting Developments

In July 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued FASB Interpretation No. ("FIN") 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes under SFAS No. 109. CISC adopted FIN 48 on January 1, 2007, which had no effect on CISC's financial position.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement on Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements." This standard establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosure about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies to fair value measurements already required or permitted by existing standards. SFAS No. 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007 and interim periods within those fiscal years. The changes to current generally accepted accounting principles from the application of this standard relate to the definition of fair value, the methods used to measure fair value, and the expanded disclosures about fair value measurements. CISC does not believe that the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have a material impact on its financial position.

3. Cash and Securities Segregated under Federal and Other Regulations

At December 31, 2007, CISC segregated cash of $2 and U.S. Treasury securities with a market value of $10,285 in a special reserve bank account for the exclusive benefit of customers under Rule 15c3-3 of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").

4. Securities Owned and Securities Sold, not yet Purchased

Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, are recorded at fair value. Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, are valued using quoted market prices or dealer price quotations in active markets.

The fair value and composition were as follows at December 31, 2007:

	Securities Owned	Securities Sold, not yet Purchased
State and municipal securities	$ 1,787	$ 15
Other securities	464	431
	$ 2,251	$ 446

Securities sold, not yet purchased, represent obligations of CISC to deliver specified securities and thereby create a liability to purchase the security in the market at prevailing prices.

Securities owned are held by CISC's clearing broker. Under the terms of the clearing agreement, NFS may rehypothecate these securities. CISC is subject to credit risk should the clearing broker be unable to fulfill its obligations to return the securities.

5. Receivable from Clearing Broker

The receivable from clearing broker primarily represents the amounts due from NFS relating to commission and fee revenues, net of the related clearing fees. The receivable also includes amounts due from NFS for cash balances in firm trading and error accounts.

6. Receivable and payable from/to customers

CISC clears customer transactions through a clearing broker and as such does not carry customer accounts on its books; however, customer receivable/payable balances may occur in the normal course of business as a result of automated clearing house ("ACH") payments that are not processed on the trade date. CISC monitors ACH balances on a daily basis.

7. Goodwill

On October 1, 2006, JPMorgan Chase completed the acquisition of The Bank of New York's consumer, business banking and middle-market banking businesses in exchange for selected corporate trust businesses, plus a cash payment. In connection with this transaction, CISC paid $31,808 to an affiliate for its allocated portion of the purchase price, representing goodwill.

Goodwill is not amortized but instead tested for impairment in accordance with SFAS No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." Goodwill is tested annually or more often if events or circumstances indicate that there may be impairment. Goodwill was not impaired at December 31, 2007, nor was any goodwill written off during 2007.

8. Credit Risk, Guarantees and Indemnification

CISC clears all of its securities transactions through its clearing broker on a fully disclosed basis. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement between CISC and NFS, the clearing broker has the right to charge CISC for losses that result from its customers' failure to fulfill their contractual obligations.

To minimize its risk, CISC, through its clearing broker, requires its customers to, at a minimum, meet margin requirements as specified under U.S. Treasury Regulation T. This margin requirement is a good faith deposit from the customer related to their trading obligations. If necessary, CISC may liquidate certain positions to satisfy the obligations of the customer. Management believes that the margin deposits at December 31, 2007 are adequate to mitigate the risk of material loss.

In addition, CISC has the right to pursue collection or performance from customers and other counterparties who do not perform under their contractual obligations. CISC monitors the financial standing of NFS and all customers and counterparties to whom it extends credit. FIN 45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others," requires the disclosure of representations and warranties which CISC enters into and which may provide general indemnifications to others. CISC in its normal course of business may enter into contracts that contain such representations and warranties. CISC's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against CISC that have not yet occurred. However, based on its experience, CISC believes the risk of loss to be remote.

9. Related Party Transactions

CISC enters into transactions with other JPMorgan Chase subsidiaries. The aggregate receivables and payables related to these transactions at December 31, 2007 were $3,632 and $3,242, respectively.

CISC deposits certain cash balances with JPMorgan Chase Bank National Association ("JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A."), a wholly owned subsidiary of JPMorgan Chase. At December 31, 2007, such deposits amounted to $10,995. Cash equivalents of $277,604 are invested in various JPMorgan Chase money market funds.

On June 22, 2007, CISC entered into a revolving subordinated loan (the "subordinated loan") agreement with its parent for $100,000, which matures on July 7, 2017. Based upon an agreement approved by FINRA, the subordinated loan is available in computing regulatory net capital. This loan may be repaid prior to maturity only if, after giving effect to such payment, CISC meets its regulatory net capital requirements. CISC did not borrow any amounts under the subordinated loan agreement during the year ended December 31, 2007.

10. Employee Compensation and Benefits

CISC's employees participate, to the extent they meet the minimum eligibility requirements, in various benefit plans sponsored by JPMorgan Chase. Additionally, CISC's employees may receive stock-based incentive compensation based on their performance and JPMorgan Chase's consolidated operating results.

Pension and Other Postretirement Plans

CISC's employees participate in the JPMorgan Chase U.S. qualified defined benefit pension plan which is noncontributory, and they may also participate in defined contribution plans sponsored by JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A.. In addition, through JPMorgan Chase, CISC provides postretirement medical and life insurance benefits to qualifying employees. These benefits vary with length of service and date of hire and provide for limits of CISC's share of covered medical benefits. The medical benefits are contributory, while the life insurance benefits are noncontributory. As of August 1, 2005, the eligibility requirements for employees to qualify for subsidized retiree medical coverage were revised and life insurance coverage was eliminated for active employees retiring after 2005. There are no separate plans solely for the employees of CISC. Disclosures of pension benefit obligations and other postretirement benefits, including funded status, expense components and weighted-average actuarial assumptions for JPMorgan Chase on a consolidated basis have been included in the 2007 Annual Report of JPMorgan Chase & Co.

Employee Stock-Based Incentives

Certain key employees of CISC participate in JPMorgan Chase's long-term stock-based incentive plans that provide for grants of common stock-based awards, including stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units, and stock appreciation rights. See the 2007 Annual Report of JPMorgan Chase & Co. for further disclosure.

(Dollars in thousands)

11. Taxes

At December 31, 2007, CISC has a net deferred tax asset of $5,461. The significant component of the deferred tax asset relates primarily to litigation expenses. CISC has concluded that it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will be realized and, therefore, no valuation allowance is required.

In addition, at December 31, 2007, CISC has an income tax payable to JPMorgan Chase and state and local tax authorities of $9,769.

12. Fair Value

Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased, are carried at fair value. Management estimates that the aggregate fair value of other financial assets and liabilities recognized on the statement of financial condition approximates carrying value, due to their short-term nature.

13. Commitments and Contingencies

CISC maintains reserves for certain outstanding litigation. In accordance with SFAS No. 5 "Accounting for Contingencies," CISC accrues for litigation-related liabilities when it is probable that such a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. While the outcome of litigation is inherently uncertain, management believes in light of all information known at December 31, 2007, the firm's litigation reserves were adequate at such date. Management reviews litigation exposures periodically, and the reserve may be increased or decreased in the future to reflect further litigation developments. CISC believes it has meritorious defenses to claims asserted against it and with respect to such litigation intends to continue to defend itself vigorously, litigating or settling cases, according to management's judgment as to what is in the best interest of CISC.

14. Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk

In the normal course of business, CISC's customer activities involve the execution, settlement and financing of various customer securities transactions. These activities may expose CISC to off-balance sheet risk in the event the customer or other broker is unable to fulfill its contractual obligations, and CISC has to purchase or sell the financial instrument underlying the contract at a loss.

15. Net Capital Requirements

CISC is subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934); which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. CISC is required to maintain minimum net capital equal to the greater of $250 or 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined. At December 31, 2007, CISC had net capital of $236,477 which was $231,934 in excess of its required net capital of $4,543. CISC's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .29 to 1 at December 31, 2007.
